

What Is Antique Improver?

While working in restoration of fine antiques, I found that after a year or two, work I had done looked dull and lifeless while pieces hundreds of years old still retained their natural beauty. The modern finishing products were obviously the problem. Searching for a solution led me to methods and products commonly used in past centuries.

Kramer's Best Antique Improver is the result of my studies of old recipes and formulae. Hand formulated from 14 all-natural ingredients, this one product—wiped on with a soft cloth, allowed to stand 5 to 15 minutes, then wiped dry with a clean cloth—literally puts more life and beauty back into your fine pieces than you ever thought possible. Use it as your maintenance product instead of polishes and sprays, or to reverse damage.

Modern treatments containing petroleum products, silicones, tung oil, or lemon oil, may improve appearance temporarily, but contain nothing that gives lasting improvement. My Antique Improver restores natural finishes—paint, lacquer, varnish, shellac. It cleans, brightens and clarifies the finish, helps heal checking, hazing, cracking, and rebonds the finish. Most important—the improvement is long-lasting. And, in fact, it continues to improve even more over time as the natural ingredients restore life and beauty to the finish and the wood.

Stripping can be avoided in most cases, and value and integrity of the piece preserved. If stripping is absolutely necessary, due to ill-considered painting over an original finish, Kramer's Best Antique Improver is the best next step. It is an ideal final finish for stripped or new wood. Sanding is eliminated. The surface is fully protected with a natural hand-rubbed beauty.

Antique Improver also restores and improves the appearance and value of tools, toys, tins, &c. The surface is cleaned, rust halted, paint rebonded and further damage is prevented. Natural beauty is restored. Value is preserved.

I personally make and stand behind every bottle of this unique, traditional product. I invite you to try it. You will be amazed.

John T. Kramer
